EU CITIZENSHIP

e-Medine is a not-for-profit organisation dedicated to the promotion of EU citizenship and to the role of Europe as a large motherland. The Italian not-for-profit aims to facilitate civic participation of social actors, such as young citizens and public administrations, through the implementation of awareness raising campaigns, round tables and the dissemination of best practices.

e-Medine aims at improving the general participation to the social life of the community and raise awareness about the importance of the European identity. In order to achieve its goals, the organization promotes the adoption of serious games, ICT and other digital tools and methodologies that have already shown their effectiveness in the field of EU citizenship.
